

Let My People Go (3)

“I’d rather wander in the Light
than reside in the darkness”

Text: 1 Corinthians 5

- John 1:14; Exodus 40:34
- God chose Israel to be his model of _____
_____ to the world.
- Love compels us to do _____.
- Ethical confrontations are _____ to help us change into God’s person.
- 1 Peter 2:9, 11-12
- Philippians 2:15
- Philippians 2:12-13
- We are a people in _____.
- Conversion is a _____ decision.

For Group Discussion:

1. If people could closely inspect the inner workings of this church, what would they learn about God’s covenant relationship with humankind?
2. Describe how you would confront a Christian you know is involved in immorality, or who is exhibiting a character trait that is injurious to others or that dims the light of Jesus in the community. What obstacles (in general) could you foresee? Would you have the determination to see the confrontation through to the end, whether that end be the reversal of lifestyle or the person walking away?
3. Discuss the statement, “Conversion is a daily decision.”

“Springs will gush forth in the wilderness and streams will water the desert”
Isaiah 35:6

We had the great blessing of witnessing Kristen Torres’ baptism into Jesus Wednesday. Laura, Kristen, and Greg are such an important part of our church family, a blessing to us. We praise God for his saving grace, and pledge to Kristen our Christ-like love and support as she walks with Jesus.

It’s a challenging world for Christians. Increasingly people reject the teachings of Scripture, with inescapable results: false or, at best, incomplete pictures of God, a self-developed code of ethics, and increasing resistance to returning to the Bible’s timeless wisdom as the truth we need to guide our lives. The saddest thing about that is that it’s all found its way into the lives of God’s kingdom people. We must correct that, and it won’t be easy. We look at some helpful teaching today.
