That we live in uncertain times is an understatement. (I wonder if there has ever been a time when uncertainty was not a concern?) What causes such uncertainty? I'm going to make an across-the-board judgment: For most folks, in our society at least, the uncertainty centers on whether or not "I'm going to be able to live my life as I choose." I'm not that concerned about you...except in regard to how your life affects me. (speaking for society at large, of course) I want to know that I'm going to be able to pursue my dreams, maintain my standard of living, get quality health care when I need it, retire when I had planned, live in peace and comfort, etc. If there's some question about that, I want it addressed. This is my life you're messing with!

For believers, life is about more than such earth-bound concerns. Not that they're not important, but they don't control our present nor shape our future. Right?

Well, in case some of us still struggle with too much focus on earthly concerns, we'll take a page from the exodus story to remind us in whom our future lies.

Glenn
